the slumbering suspicion.

Days flew into weeks and weeks into moths, bringing, no clew to the missing diamonds; but, strange to relate, many small articles of lesser value were Crown Jewels. The British crown jewets.

The British crown is not the property of Queen Victoria, but of the nation. All the crown jewels are kept in the Tower of Loudon. The room in which they are kept is a ground-floor apartment, with somber stone walls eight feet in thickness. It is small, and in the center stands a huge, iron-barred eago, oblong in shape and risbarred cago, oblong in shape and rising nearly to the ceiling. Within this cage is a stand, terrace-topped, and covered with velvet, which was at one time white. At the extreme top is the crown made for Victoria. Below it, on erown made for Victoria. In a great many cases a single does has whatavar will it fell to our of the directions ere strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single does has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a nerfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, pradent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more aspecially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require a ny aid to keep the howels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four desse of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VECETABLE FAMILY FILLS will be sufficient.
